Educational Tv Viewing Ready Here

By N-V Staff Writer

CHARLOTTESVILLE —Channel 23, Richmond's Wctv-Tv educational station, is now available to Waynesboro viewers on the cable, it was announced today by Robert Monroe, president of Jefferson Cable Corp. of Charlottesville.

"People in Waynesboro have been asking me about this for some time," he told The News-Virginian. "I am happy to announce this development."

He said customers of the cable system would receive regular schedule listings of the educational station.

Jones on Board

M. G. Jones Sr., Waynesboro businessman and chairman of the Board of Trustees of Shenandoah Technical College, was elected to the Board of Directors of Jefferson Cable, at last week's meeting of the stockholders.

Other members elected were W. Wright Harrison, president of Virginia National Bank, Claude Jessup of Virginia Trailways Bus Co. and Mr. Monroe, president of the cable company. All are residents of Charlottesville.

Cable Service Planned

Plans were made for completion of all areas to be serviced by cable in Waynesboro and Charlottesville. Channel 23 will be aired on Channel 11 locally.

Additional plans were laid for expansion of Tv cable television systems by the end of the year.

The headquarters will remain in the Charlottesville area.
